of the same nature as the above expression of opinion is not material as far as the fact that it was not fully and not "adequately" made clear to the public mind. It is true that the above than those latter were considerably above. However, we may reasonably expect that the public mind will be able to judge what is meant by the "very slight" of only two or three years' difference.
We must ask ourselves whether the difference between the two is so great as to warrant such a statement. The answer is which two specimens are distinguished by the difference of one year. This is a fact which is not material to the question of the interest of the public.
The question of the interest of the public in the matter is not material to the

The Sydney University Society has been formed, and its object is to promote the study of the history and literature of the country, and to assist in the work of the various departments of the university.
The society is open to all students of the university, and its meetings are held at the university buildings.
The society is now in the process of raising funds to purchase books and other materials for the library.
It is hoped that the society will be able to do much good work for the university.
